About Me

Born as Jade Jacquelyn Wiselogle, I was born and raised in Royal Oak, Michigan, part of Metro-Detroit. I am currently 19 years old and am entering my second year of college as a dual major in Apparel/Textile Design and Professional Writing at Michigan State University.

Ever since I was little, I have dreamed of someday working for a fashion magazine or publication, which is what has driven my decision to study both of these things at MSU.

I hope to someday travel the world, as I am fluent in speaking standard German, and am taking up Italian starting this fall. I love to immerse myself into other cultures and broaden my knowledge of the world and
